

In Case You Missed the Memo

International Public Notice

The United States of America —
Federation of States

Those “national trust” treasures that Charles III admitted selling (not personally — his Mother and Grandfather) included you, the people of Great Britain, the Commonwealth, and The United States, too.

It wasn’t just dusty jewels or Mesopotamian artifacts. It was the “livestock” that came with the land the British Crown misappropriated accidentally-on-purpose.

Someone needs to inform AI and Wikipedia staffers that “Life Force Value Annuities” are the same as Life Insurance Annuities — just a different name for it that includes certain additional resources that the British Monarchs threw in the deal.

That $950 Trillion in Life Force Value Annuities that Prince Philip collected in 2017 should be translated for the clueless AI — that’s $950 Trillion dollars worth of Life Insurance Annuities.

And we all know how Life Insurance works, right? Somebody has to die before someone else gets paid.

Annuities have that involved in their pay off clauses, too. While normal death attrition rates provided a good steady income for the Monarchs and their cronies, a real windfall requires death. It does not matter how the death comes about — either by war or by injection.

They couldn’t get WWII started on time, so guess what else they had up their sleeves?

Remember that statement by Prince Philip about how after he died, he wanted to come back as a “loathsome virus” and do his bit to deal with the “overpopulation problem”?

The British Monarchs knew about the lethal injections and signed off on them, grossly enriching themselves in the process.

Billions of people had to die, but facing the end himself, Prince Philip didn’t care. He just wanted to make sure that the bills were paid and the Royal Family would be well-provided for.

So don’t get all warm and fuzzy when you see them snuggled up together on the front porch of Buckingham Palace. Remember that Buckingham Palace was named after Lord Buckingham, the infamous gay lover of King James the First.

And whenever you see something labeled as “conspiracy theory” — especially anything coming out of this office, consider that the Conspiracy Theorists have been proven right 100% of the time.

Not just usually. Not sometimes.

If you need instructions on how to make yourself a tin foil hat, they are readily available on the internet.

Until then, Mr. Trump and Company, the internet will stay turned on and there will be no book burnings public or private. Canadians are warned to preserve their Provincial State Statute Books, American State Statute Books need to be preserved, too. As evidence.

Court closures and Land Law are both coming.
