The United States of America —
Federation of States

The Marine Corps was birthed into this world on November 10th 1775 as one of the world's first amphibious national armed forces, ready for action on land or sea. To this day, Marines remember that they are Americans and say so, despite over 160 years of being secretly abused as a private mercenary service and told that they are "United States" citizens, instead.

God knows, it was never their intention to dishonor our flag or their uniform; that they ever did, was purely the secretive deceit of evil men who were traitors both to this country and to humanity.

As the Marines approach their 250th birthday this November 10th lets all pause to remember and to pray for all those Marines alive and dead, who have served this country in good faith and through it all.

Here's a part of their story and one of the reasons that I carry a special torch for the Marine Corps. Their famous motto, Semper Fidelis, or as they say, "Semper Fi!" is the Latin for the Belcher family motto, "Loyale au Mort" — always faithful unto death.

The Marines had their start in our family and are our family. Literally. They are part of a military tradition that harkens back to Sparta in Greece, the Cherusci that whipped Rome, They reflect the true heart, determination, and ultimate loyalty that we all have to summon as we do our part to protect and preserve this great country — whether we serve in the Marine Corps or stock shelves in a grocery store, so that our people can find what they need and keep eating.

One of the threats coming out of the corporate debacle now unfolding is the threat that our soldiers and sailors will no longer be paid. Let me tell you, there are Americans who have worked like slaves for the past eighteen years to be sure that can never happen for long, no matter how many systems fail, however many bankers and regulators are corrupted or how many corporations suddenly cease to exist.

The people of this country are ready as they were from the very beginning, to step in and step up, and make sure that our soldiers and sailors and their families are provided for. And all our homeless veterans, too. This has been a major priority and goal since 2001 when Jim Belcher took office.

You better believe that the family that gave birth and form to the Marine Corps stands ready to deliver, for our Sons and Daughters in uniform, and for our veterans and for our country.

The Federation of States stands utterly, completely, irrevocably determined, that our service members' trust will never again be breached by politicians, bankers, industrialists, tech magnates or anybody else. They will never again face danger and death for ignoble causes. Those days are gone, along with the Mercenary "Wars".

Many of you have been confused by the body doubles of Donald Trump that are running around putting words in his mouth, and have been disturbed by the crazy policy shifts and conflicting rumors that spring up like dandelion crops. The answer is simple — there are multiple actors hired by different adverse players, impersonating Donald Trump.

Donald Trump hasn't lost his mind. He is suffering from impersonation. Take a close look at the people presenting themselves as "Donald Trump".

The real Trump is very tall, 6'4" or more — like Barron Trump. The Trump doubles aren't nearly that tall. Some of them are as fat as Santa Claus. Some have ears that stick out from their heads far more than Donald Trump's ears ever did. Some look much younger than the actual Trump and a few look older. Just sharpen up your observation skills and you will be able to see this for yourselves.

Some of these actors are spewing very damaging war hawk dialogues while others are spreading a message of successful peace talks and ending wars, not starting them. Some are threatening and bullying, others are intent on making shrewd business deals. As usual, we, the American Public, are being played.

There are many, many discrepancies in the video records that demonstrate a consistent practice of using body doubles to represent Donald Trump beginning in his first presidency. All that has recently changed is that some of his enemies have started using body doubles to misrepresent him. The real Trump is always consistent about his faith and very shrewd in business. He also always tries his best to keep his word.

When you see actors, Trump impersonators just like Elvis impersonators, take it all with a grain of salt. That's always good advice in the Weird World that 160 years-worth of fraud has wrought.

And for Trump fans and Trump detractors alike, realize that no matter who was in office at this time, he or she would still have to do the same things. They would still have to wind down the mammoth carcass of the old Municipal Government. They would still have to conduct massive audits. They would still have to disrupt and yes, even discontinue services some constituents have come to rely upon. This is what happens when a venerable and huge government services corporation is in Chapter 7 bankruptcy.

Another thing that happens is at the very end, that bankrupt entity has to vacate Washington, District of Columbia, for 120 days.

Shutting down the Federal Capitol for that long without anyone noticing has to be hidden behind a smokescreen of some kind. This time it's the Democrats taking the blame and serving as scapegoats.

Meantime, another bankruptcy is in the making, as the other large DC parent corporation sinks back into insolvency. They had until October 17th to come up with enough money to buy them time with their Creditors, but will be on a short leash and unable to effectively deal with some of the problems until the rest of the issues of ownership, debt, slush funds, insurance funds, and discharge of odious debt get settled.

We have the means to do what needs to be done, and we will; just be patient and realize that the situation is deceptive and complex, but "no weapon shall prosper against" those who seek the truth and do their best for mankind. The Evil Ones may push and shove and succeed for a small amount of time, but their end is certain and just.

And remember, while the Marine Corps Birthday is on November 10th, the day that comes afterward, November 11th, remains our Veterans' Day.

If the remaining few Federal Civil Service employees really want to celebrate Tattooed Gay Furry Marmot Day instead, that's okay with us. We don't remember many tattooed gay furry marmots coming to save us, but to each their own.
