The United States of America —
Federation of States

There's a great deal of misunderstanding revolving around events that happened more than 150 years ago in the District of Columbia — the infamous Acts of 1871.

Here's a short video clip of Karen Hudes, a former (now deceased) attorney for the World Bank Collateral Accounts, correctly explaining how foreign bankers operating out of the District of Columbia set up a new corporation and called it "the United States" — Incorporated, in 1871.

This new, foreign, but identically named corporation was then used to substitute for and be confused with the American Federal Republic that did business as an unincorporated entity using the same name, "the United States", from 1787 to 1861.

They didn't bother to add that telltale little word, "Incorporated" to the official name, so we have grown up confusing this District of Columbia corporation with the name of our country, The United States, and also with the doing-business-as name of our American Federal Republic, both.

The assets cashiered and rolled over into this new foreign international corporation calling itself "the United States" were seized upon without notice to the American Public on February 2nd 1871 by members of the Territorial U.S. Congress — and represented all the assets and corporations that rightfully belonged to the American Federal Republic — "the United States" that operated from 1787 to 1861.

The Perpetrators, British Territorial U.S. Citizens, were deeply in debt and were egged on by the banks acting as their Creditors, to make this False and Undisclosed Claim on Abandonment against assets belonging to their American Employers. They did this even knowing that it violated the "good faith service" provisions of their own service contract, "The Constitution of the United States of America".

The choice of name for this new corporation was intentional and meant to deceive the American Public —which it did for a century and a half, by dint of secrecy and deliberate, determined non-disclosure.

Clearly, our British Territorial Federal Subcontractors were at pains to deceive the trusting American Public and were operating under False Pretenses when they seized upon these assets and created a private foreign-owned District of Columbia Municipal Corporation named "the United States" — Incorporated.

The use of the same name and even the same style conventions, so as to promote confusion and the natural assumption that “the United States” that existed from 1787 to 1861 was the same as “the United States” — Incorporated, that existed (with multiple bankruptcies) from 1871 to 2026, is a form of constructive fraud known as “mirroring”.

This was deliberate, self-interested fraud that obscured what was really going on and which kept the actual American Government from stepping up and claiming “the United States” (Federal Republic) assets that naturally belonged to us.

The form of “the United States” — Incorporated, was deliberately chosen as a Municipal Corporation, so as to promote another kind of deceit based on substitution fraud and mistaken identity.

The original Federal Constitutions made the Congress of the American Federal Republic responsible for providing a “plenary government” to administer the City of Washington, DC.

The banker-perpetrators “redefined” this plenary government provision to apply to the Municipality of Washington, DC, and to the members of the British Territorial U.S. Congress, instead — which the Founders never anticipated and never implied, which the States of the Union never ratified, and which the people of this country never knowingly agreed to.

These and other vile Acts were simply put in place as if they had authority and legitimacy and were presumed to be “accepted” via acquiescence.

This “reinterpretation” of the plenary government provisions allowed members of the British Territorial U.S. Congress to usurp plenary powers and redefine the Municipality of Washington, DC, as an “independent, international city-state” squatting on our shores without any authorization from our American Government; the same moves granted the same Bad Actors plenary power over the “citizens of the United States”.

This unauthorized and usurped coercive power has been used by the British Interlopers to promote such outrageous injustices as the Buck Act of 1940, and the misapplication of such “Acts” against the members of the separate and foreign American Public who were never “citizens of the United States” however “the United States” was defined.
