What was going on in 1702? The wrap-up and consolidation of the changes brought about by the English Civil War, the formation of the British Union, the War of the Spanish Succession and its aftermath which placed a German Queen on the British Throne, and.... the cover up of a debacle of unknown origin and cause.

All over the world we encounter the Great Mudflood:

This is no longer a question; a worldwide earthquake of unimaginable proportions took place sometime between 1694 and 1702 resulted in disastrous and widespread liquefaction of the Earth's surface, resulting in buildings sinking straight down 10 to 20 feet with some buildings disappearing entirely — swallowed by the Earth, literally.

This predates the date of 1800 initially proposed by a hundred years.

What this means for Bible enthusiasts is that the Great Shaking, the Mother of all Earthquakes foretold by Jesus, has already happened.

And it was covered up.

There are many, many events, wars, commercial ventures, explorations and details of ancient kingdoms that are well-known to us today; we can give a fairly accurate account of day to day life in Ancient Babylon — yet we remain ignorant of events that occurred worldwide 300 years ago?

This is not credible, except as a deliberate, orchestrated, and conscious cover-up designed to hide the existence of the Great Mudflood and the damages sustained.

Look sharp, because the deeper we dig, the more convoluted and covered up the history becomes — and the more deeply tied to commercial interests.
