The United States of America —
Federation of States

One famous pundit is now accusing “the Dems” of using “treasonous” Generals against Donald Trump. Treason isn’t actually possible, because none of these people are occupying any valid public office; the Roman Municipal Law says, “Let him who will be deceived, be deceived.” and we well and truly have been, but now that is in the past and we can see clearly once again.

Do we have to buy 300 million copies of “Soldier of Fortune” to get the point across?

The British Territorial commercial corporation calling itself “the United States of America” — Incorporated, is in the business of providing state protection services. Donald J. Trump is the President of that foreign corporation. We, Americans, have a long-standing service contract with this corporation called “The Constitution of the United States of America”.

You can be sure that the Generals operating this above-referenced British Territorial Corporation are British Territorial Subjects and they are loyal to President Donald J. Trump, because otherwise, they’d be in mutiny and we would all hear about that.

However, there is another corporation, a Roman Municipal corporation calling itself “the UNITED STATES” — INCORPORATED” and this entity has Generals, too.

Their Generals can’t be accused of treason, either, not only because they are working for a foreign Municipal corporation, instead of a national government, but because they passed their receivership to the actual American Government.

Both of these corporations merely work for us, the American People, the State Citizens who contracted for their services under the terms established by two of the three Federal Constitutions:

The Constitution of the United States of America (Trump)

The Constitution of the United States (Successors to be named)

The Generals are all serving in private capacities as hired mercenaries who owe duty and due diligence to the American Government and our unincorporated Federation of States under contract — as vendors.

This is not the same as being a General in a national military, which is a public office and command.

The reason John Bolton infamously called them “suckers” and the reason this was misreported as Donald Trump calling them “suckers” is that most of the Generals have not been aware that they are serving in a private capacity and working for foreign masters as mercenaries.

They are getting a tiny fraction of the money and benefits they could command as true mercenaries, and because they continue to believe and assume that they are members of a lawful and honorable national military long, long after that status was sold out behind a smokescreen called the Civil War — they appear to be clueless.

So, now both groups of Generals, none of whom hold any public office, though they act as Successors to public contracts, are being pitted against each other in a frenzy of public ignorance.

It's not a matter of treason or being "for" or "against" Trump.

Trump is the Commander in Chief over one group, and at the present moment, has no command and control over the other group of Generals who have been employed by the UNITED STATES, INC.

Two groups of mercenaries, both owing their duty and due diligence to us, the American People and our States of the Union, both circling around as if this entire country was the equivalent of road kill.

So let's make sense of this: we, the actual Delegators of any and all delegated "Powers" ever delegated to either group of Generals, do declare and say to both groups of Generals and their Corporation bosses:

Your only duty is to protect the living people of this country and their property. It's not your duty to shock us, endanger us, discourage us, manipulate us, terrorize us, or anything of that sort.

Secure the borders, keep the peace, protect, and assist people as people, not as personnel.

We do not agree to hosting any form of "war" declared or undeclared, private or public, commercial or non-commercial in nature within the borders of the States of the Union or in any United States Territories or Possessions.

We do not agree with any plan to deliberately shut down portions of the electrical grid and needlessly endanger and inconvenience Americans for dramatic effect.

We do not condone nor consent to airing violent films showing the equivalent of child abuse or pornography or snuff films over the public airwaves; we understand the concept of trial by public opinion, but non-consensual trauma is non-consensual trauma.

There is no way to guarantee the protection of impressionable young viewers attracted to an Emergency Broadcast System release that could terrify them and psychologically and emotionally harm them in the name of public awareness and justifying the prosecution of persons involved in inflicting terror and torture on other children.

We have long recognized that some subjects and realities are for adults only. Pay attention and respect the viewers and the Public Law and the children you aim to protect.
